

llahona®

H2O

H2O is a water bottle designed by Oriol Llahona for special events or celebrations. It has a Champagne glass form which plays with the concept "A glass serving a glass".

Originally selected for the Luxepack Design Award, the H2O has been selected for taking part in the "Colour Management for Packaging " book released by Rotovision and carried out by John T. Drew (associate Professor at California State University).

H2O also appeared in "PACK!" released by Monsa

Oriol Llahona

Oriol Llahona is born in 1977 in Barcelona.

He studied Industrial Design at Elisava Universitat Pompeu Fabra Barcelona, Universität Essen, University Southampton and Graduated in 1999 and Postgraduated in 2004.

Internship at Franc Fernández Arquitecte where he learned to extract the essence and simplicity of things.

After working under the trademark of Positiu for some years, he established by his own in 2011.

His works have been shown at Milan, Frankfurt, Tokyo and Valencia.

Oriol Llahona designs objects, spaces and ideas providing emotions to our lifes.

Oriol Llahona " Design provides emotions to our life"